PARKING MEASURE BEFORE TRUSTEES

The board of trustees met in regular session Monday evening, with all city trustees present, Mayor Smith presiding.

A forty-five minute parking law for Mission street was passed for the first reading by the board, prohibiting vehicles from parking more than forty-five minutes between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., except Sundays and holidays, in certain business sections of that street.

A request for an air and water line on Mission street and Crocker avenue to supply air from the curb was denied, owing to the danger of the highway and the narrow sidewalk.

A petition from ninety-two residents and property owners of Hillcrest Drive and Los Olivos avenue, complaining of the actions of the Butler Company rock crushing plant was read and presented by Ex-Mayor E. Freyer. The complaint was in regard to the night switching of freight cars, dust and noise, and the littering of our streets with loose rock. The board was asked for some relief in this matter. By motion this matter was laid over until the next regular meeting, so as to give time for an investigation of conditions, and learn of the legal rights in this affair.

The committee on securing a pound reported that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of San Francisco, met Thursday of last week and decided to confine their organization to San Francisco only. The committee has other methods to work on, so asked for further time.

A donation of books amounting in value to $50 was made to the city library by Mrs. John D. Raly, and on motion approved by the board the city clerk was instructed to send a letter of thanks for the donation, as Mrs. Daly has been one of the best sponsors of our library.

After ordering the payment of a number of bills, the board adjourned to meet in special session Monday, November 1, to consider certain changes in the map of the Lindhome Manor district.

ERECT NEW SHRINE IN ST. MAXIMUS PATIO

Last Sunday morning the members of St. Maximus church viewed with pleasure a new shrine erected in the patio to the patroness of the parish.

The vestibule of the new church is being decorated this week by Father Sciochetti and will be completed by next Sunday. The decoration consists chiefly of an outdoor scene depicting the Baptism of Our Lord in the River Jordon. Like the other sanctuary in the body of the church it is of fine artistic value.

Tuesday evening a meeting of the St. Maximus Girls' Club was held in their club rooms adjoining the church. Many topics of interest and for the church development of the parish were discussed. A large number were present. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. H. Rhode.

The last of the afternoon whists was held in the parish hall Wednesday. In the future the weekly social events will be held on Thursday evenings.

The whist to be given in the Daly City Auditorium on Tuesday evening, November 2, promises to be the largest whist party ever held in Daly City. After the whist a social dance will be held, to which admission is free. A large radio will be installed and the election returns will be received.

ACTIVITIES OF THE JEFFERSON P. T. A.

To entertain the Federation on November 19 is the next big feat of the Jefferson P. T. A. plans. The committee, which consists of Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. R. Smith and Mrs. Wagner, was appointed at the P. T. A. meeting last Monday.

Mrs. M. Smith announced that several bundles were promised for the P. T. A. philanthropy work, and Mrs. Brush, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. R. Smith were appointed to help Mrs. M. Smith every Wednesday with this work.

Besides the philanthropy work, Mrs. Kleemeyer was appointed to take charge of a sick committee and to go see Mrs. Valdivia, a member of the Jefferson P. T. A., who is very ill.

Mrs. Wisewell and Mrs. Eberle are to visit the P. T. A. at their next meeting. Entertainment for this meeting is to be furnished by the school band.

The P. T. A. also discussed other matters, such as having a bank in the school, and having benches in the halls of the Jefferson Union high school.

If possible, the P. T. A. are planning to have a whist party in the school auditorium about the 23rd of November.

BOUQUET FOR OUR OWN JEFFERSON

For years it has been admitted generally that the elementary schools of this district, including Daly City and Colma, are peculiarly efficient in many ways.

Perhaps the chief reason why they are so is because none of the teachers are bound by rules, regulations or card-systems.

On the oother hand, each teacher is expected to do the best possible for the children entrusted to her care. As a consequence she feels the obligation of doing her utmost to advance every one of her class. She can not afford to do any less.

Consequently she seeks the better methods and finds her greatest reward in her own success.

As the years come and go her individuality increases steadily and self-confidence inspires her to greater and oroginal effort,

In manners, first of all, stands respect for the teacher, and she must be deserving of that high tribute. Following that comes consideration for one another and common courtesy to all.

Recently it was the duty of a state instructor to visit each class and give to the children a necessary lesson on health. This instructor, doing her work, visits many schools, and after years of experience she is decidedly capable of rendering impartial judgment. The writer was never introduced to the instructor, so her comments are not in any way the result of personal influence. The following is her letter to our County Superintendent, Miss Pansy J. Abbott:

California Tuberculosis Association.
415 Griffith-McKensie Building
Fresno, Calif., Oct. 21, 1926.

Miss Pansy J. Abbott,
County Supt. of Schools,
San Mateo County, Calif.

My Dear Miss Abbott:

After spending two days in the Daly City and Colma schools, I feel impelled to write this note to you, to tell you that I have never enjoyed talking to groups of children anywhere any more than I did to the pupils of each and all grades in each of the schools of that district.

Because their attention, courtesy, and interest were outstanding in their perfectness, individually and collectively, I felt that they should be commended.

May I say, that personally I think all the teachers in these schools are marvelous.

Mrs. Emile Lohr has put on a very good health program and succeeds in getting the co-operation of all the teachers and is so much beloved by them and the children.

My work with your county nurse was a great pleasure, and I am sure you have a most efficient, conscientious and splendid character in Miss Throndson.

Very sincerely yours,
BEATRICE H. WOODWARD.

The above is not the first state compliment that has been given to our schools. When the State Superintendent Will C. Wood made his official visit he was equally generous in his comments.

The teachers, being so faithful to their duty and working zealously, all the time, deserve the pleasure of well earned praise, now and then, and when it comes in the way of such a letter as the above, it would be a shame not to give it full publicity.

However, praise or not, reward or otherwise, popularity or the lack of it, the good work in our schools goes on, at high pressure, all the time.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT GRACE PRESBYTERIAN

Services last Sabbath at Grace Presbyterian church were well attended and the singing for the evening was an uplift.

The theme for next Sunday evening is: "A Happy Life and How to Obtain it—The Drawing Power of the World."

The orchestra is now preparing a special program of music to be given at the church in the near future, taking the entire program for the evening. You are asked to watch for the date.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a special program on Thursday evening of next week, and all members and friends are invited to attend.

A splendid evening was had on Friday night at the church by the men in honor of Mr. George Archer, who has just recently returned from England, visiting with his parents. Good eats and a good time was the word of all.

You are invited to come and spend an evening with us at the church, and we will find that the world is better than we thought.

Bring the Rich Men of the East to California

Rich men are staying away from California on account of the lack of sport in our big state. Millionaires like to go to the races, and it is a well established fact that they take many trips to Florida to one out this way simply because our citizens have failed to furnish the kind of pastime they enjoy. Quite a number even go to France to take in a meeting or two at the most important courses.

A happy solution of the problem of getting more well-to-do men and women in our state naturally would be the holding of race meets now and then near San Francisco and other large centers of population. The idea came to men of affairs last winter that no more time should be lost in making such sessions of the sport possible, and that is how it happens that Initiative Measure Number Six, to be voted on next Tuesday, was placed on the ballot.

The measure provides for twenty-five day meets with the pari mutuel form of wagering in operation. "Mutuals" have been a tremendous success in France, New Zealand, Maryland, Kentucky and other places, and from almost every point of view are considered by most experts as the fairest method of betting.

If the elecetors of the state put Number Six through, and the liberal sentiment just now prevalent everywhere makes it look very likely, it will be only a few short months when the millionaire colony begins its Western trek. No more voyages to France or jaunts to Florida for the enjoyment of the "ponies." Trips to California will become the rage.

Racing is something more than an amusement. It is a sport, the greatest of outdoor sports, in fact. The breeding of the thoroughbreds and the production of hay, oats, and other feed for the horses, are immense industries, and the more millionaires come our way the better for the state.

Kentucky and Maryland bred runners will be shipped to the California race tracks to compete with the "native sons" from the large breeding establishments that will be started or have already been started in this state. Sectional feeling will run high, as it did in the old days when Norfolk and Lodi, or Ten Broeck and Mollie McCarthy, met either out this way or back in the Blue Grass.

The rich men will come with their thoroughbreds and all the extensive entourage necessary for the maintenance of such a string as that of Harry Payne Whitney, Joseph Widener, Harry F. Sinclair and scores of others. Those very men are very likely to come.

Some months ago a man of affairs of Toronto, Canada, whose wealth goes well up in the millions, stopped over in San Francisco to "look around." He had been to Coronado for several months. It happens that he is a race fan, as are the majority of well-to-do travelers.

"This is a wonderful city, I like it very much for its beauty, but there's nothing to do," was the way he expressed himself after a few hours at one of the large hotels. He stayed just one night. If there had been a bit of racing, he would have made a stay of two or three weeks, and there was the possibility of even purchasing a home down the peninsula.

Public spirited citizens have a sporting duty to perform election day, which is—Vote for Number Six and bring the rich men of the East to California.

SPECIALISTS FIGHT THE WHITE PLAGUE

The Diagnostic Chest Clinic being held in San Mateo county during the week of November 1st by prominent chest specialists in co-operation with the State Tuberculosis Association, is for diagnosis only. That the need is great is shown by the figures of the survey being made by the field workers in the bureau of tuberculosis.

One hundred and twenty-nine people have died from tubeculosis in San Mateo county in the past three and one-half years. This is exclusive of deaths in the U. S. P. H. S. Hospital and Private Sanatoria. Twenty-four of these deaths occurred in the town if Redwood City, fourteen in San Mateo, thirteen in South San Francisco, ten in Menlo Park, eight in Burlingame, five in Colma, three in Daly City, thirty-three at the Community hospital, and nieteen died in rural communities.

The outstanding facts that the age group 30 to 50, when sixty-seven people died, shows that over one-half of the deaths occurring were among people in the peak of their earning capacity; and fifteen deaths were among young persons under the age of twenty years; twenty-nine deaths were of young people between the ages of 20 and 30. Thirty-five housewives, six school children, four preschool children, thirteen laborers were in this group, as also were thirty-seven other occupations.

The examination of contacts associating with these patients will no doubt show a large number needing care. This county is fortunate in having a tuberculosis pavilion where some of its people may receive proper care and supervision.

Tuberculosis is not an hereditary disease, as so often supposed, but it is communicable, and may run in families because of close contact with an opportunity for infection from careless tuberculous members.

Children of tuberculous parents, removed from their families and other sources of infection, do not develop the disease, and are no more susceptible to the disease than children with healthy parents whose health is neglected, and opportunity for infection is afforded.

Underweight among children does not necessarily indicate probability of tuberculous infection, but we do know that children habitually underweight, if exposed to infection, are mose susceptible. Much danger from infection can be eliminated by keeping a child up to normal health.

One clinic will be held on November 3 in Daly City, at Eagles' Hall, Mission street; one in San Mateo on November 4, at the Parish house of St. Mathews church, entrance on Baldwin avenue near the highway; and one clinic in Redwood City, Friday, November 5, at the Woman's Club house at the corner of Clinton and Broadyway. These clinics are free and open to everyone.

Residents of Daly City and Colma are cordially invited to visit this clinic at the Eagles' Hall on Wednesday, November 3.

ARRIVALS DURING PAST TWO MONTHS

That Daly City is growing, and growing in a way that is satisfactory to the most exacting, is evidenced by the fact that numerous families, desirable residents, are coming in every week.

BAD CHECK ARTISTS

All merchants of Daly City are warned to look out for bad checks. A few bad checks have recently been passed at various stores around the top of the hill. Marshal Doyle is on the trail of the check passers and hopes to catch them soon.

EXPECT BIG VOTE ON ELECTION DAY

An unusually large vote is predicted in San Mateo county at the general election next Tuesday, November 2, in spite of the fact that outside of the state officers to be elected, the only contests in San Mateo county are for treasurer and for justices of the peace and constable in the various townships.

In Daly City the voters seem to be practically unanimous for C. C. Young for governor, while Senator Shortridge will undoubtedly be re-elected, judging from the expressions on the streets.

The contest for county treasurer is between Gus B. Risso and Grace Lawrence Cooper. Mr. Risso has been collector of internal revenue for San Mateo county for the past five years and has made many friends. His suporters are confident that he will be elected and that he will make an ideal treasurer.

Mrs. Cooper has been a deputy in the county treasurer's office for a number of years, and is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. Her friends are putting up a good fight and are confident that she will be the next treasurer.

Constable S. A. Landini is elected, and the fight for the other constable in the First township is between James C. Wallace and C. A. Dibble. Mr. Wallace is the present incumbent, and is making the campaign on his record, and on the principle that faithful and conscientious service to the public should be rewarded by a continuation in office. Mr. Dibble is a well known business man of Burlingame and is thoroughly qualified to fill the office if elected.

For justice of the peace in the First township, Ellis C. Johnson and Edward Farrel are unopposed, Dan McSweeney having announced his withdrawal from the race. Mr. McSweeney's announcement of his withdrawal came after his name had been placed upon the ballot, but his friends are not expected to vote for him. All should cast their ballots for Judge Ellis C. Johnson and Judge Edward Farrell.

BUILDING PERMITS ON THE INCREASE

Building permits issued during the past week, as reported by City Clerk B. C. Ross, show an increase over the previous week. The following permits were issued:

A. J. ANDREW JACKSON FAVORED RACING

The Maryland Jockey Club of Baltimore City, one of the oldest racing organizations in the country, and one whose name is a synonym for high ideals, clean sport and healthful pleasure, in the days gone by had as one of its members nc less a personage than President Andrew Jackson.

The American Jockey Club book issued in 1924, being compiled and edited by C. Edward Sparrow, sports editor of the Sun, Baltimore, Maryland, contains the following interesting story:

"When Mr. Andrew Jackson was a member of the Maryland Jockey Club! That sounds strange, doesn't it? And yet the General was a member in 1831 and for years after that.

"Mr. William P. Riggs, secretary of the Club, has in his possession a letter signed by President Jackson. The great Democrat, always more of an expert in racing, cock fighting, sword play, pistol shooting and wrestling than in book learning, used to own, ride and train horses himself. It must be remembered that his chosen trade, before he took up the law, was saddle making. But here is the letter itself, to Mr. J. S. Skinner, Corresponding Secretary of the Maryland Jockey Club in 1831, which is signed in the large and strong characters that the hero of New Orleans always used:

"Washington City, Oct. 24, 1831.

"Sir: I have received your note of the 22nd inst. notifying me that I have been chosen an honorary member of the Maryland Jockey Club, under whose auspices the races on the central course commencing on next Tuesday are to be conducted.

"Having once taken an interest in associations calculated to improve the breed of the American horse, I am enabled to appreciate the efforts which you are now devoting to the same object, and do not object to give it the sanction of my name again if it be deemed worthy of the favorable regard which you have been instructed to express for it. It will be out of my power, however, to attend the races.

"Present my thankful and respectful compliments to the Club, and believe me very sincerely,

"Yr. Obt. Servt.,

"ANDREW JACKSON."

The age of President Jackson at the time the letter was written was sixty-four years. He lived fourteen years after that.

TOY ADVOCATES PASSAGE OF THE GASOLINE TAX

Individuals who are endeavoring to create the impression among California voters that sufficient funds are now available for highway construction are suggesting, in effect, that the counties give up a part of their share of the gasoline tax and motor vehicle fees.

So declared Harvey H. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission, in a statement issued last week in behalf of the gasoline tax, Proposition Number 4 on the November ballot. Toy, speaking as an individual citizen, said:

"The counties now receive half the gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees and the transfer of any part of these funds in the state is neither desirable or politically possible. If the counties are forced to give up a part of their funds, local road programs will be seriously curtailed or additional funds will have to be raised by local taxation. This would place additional burdens on agriculture and the home owning classes which they cannot bear.

"The only way in which the state can secure more funds from these sources is either to raise the rates or take a part of the funds now going to the counties. No one has openly proposed the latter, but that is what is meant when it is asserted we have enough funds now.

"It is because local taxation is reaching a limit that the tendency throughout the country is toward taxation of the road user for the building of additional highways. The adoption of the gasoline tax by forty-four states is proof of its popularity. There can be little objection to a tax that has been accorded such widespread approval by the people.

"The California legislature has wisely provided that the state's share of the present gasoline tax and the motor vehicle fees be used only for maintenance and reconstruction. Every cent of the state's share of these funds is urgently needed for these purposes. Sufficient reconstruction funds were not available prior to the enactment of present laws."

PROVIDENCE TELEPHONES

The City of Providence, R. I., East Providence and Cranston, which make up the Providence exchange area, have nearly 63,000 telephones, or one telephone for every 5.1 persons. This average is higher than that of New York City, and is better than that for the country as a whole.

Airplane regulations also might be classified under the heading of blue sky laws.

Labor leaders were as welcome in aristocratic Detroit pulpits as a certain Carpenter would be if he should return.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIRST TOWNSHIP SAN MATEO COUNTY

As the date set for the general election for state, county and township officers in the state of California draws near, I wish to submit a brief statement to the voters of this township concerning my candidacy for re-election to the office of constable.

I was elected to this office in November, 1910, and re-elected every four years since that time, now serving my fourth term. Generally speaking, length of service is one of the most essential qualifications an applicant may possess for positions in all walks of life. Having been selected for this position by my constituents on four separate occasions, and having served them well, faithfully and to the best of my ability, with no blemish or charge of any character or kind against my record, I submit that I am entitled to the deliberate and fair consideration of the honest voters of this great township for re-election to the important post of constable.

It has been said that, generally speaking, North Burlingame, formerly Easton, is entitled to the residence of the constable. North Burlingame is in the extreme southern end of the First township. It is also within the confines of the municipality of the City of Burlingame, under the jurisdiction of the Burlingame police, with the efficent City Marshal, Chief Harper, in direct charge of the force. From Burlingame Gate northward through Millbrae and Lomita Park to San Bruno the territory is unincorporated, and under the jurisdiction of constable, as well as all other unincorporated districts of the township.

According to the population of South San Francisco, it is situated in the very center of the south end of the First township. Colma, the headquarters of the veteran Constable Landini, lies in the very center of the population of the north end of the First township. The voting population of Easton-Burlingame is 1,700. The voting population of the balance of the south end of the First township is 3,636. Ninety per cent of the industrial activity of San Mateo county is carried on in South San Francisco and vicinity. The presence of a constable in this region is, therefore, considered a public requirement. The peaceful, quiet, strictly residential region of Easton-Burlingame, in the incorporated limits of the City of Burlingame, officered by the Burlingame police department, probably does not require the presence of a constable once to twenty times in the industrial center. There is NOW, and has been for YEARS, a DEPUTY CONSTABLE IN BURLINGAME.

I am raising my family on the salary of the position of constable. I am in no other line of business, devoting my entire time to my official duties.

To all those who believe in fair and just treatment, and the retention of trusted and tried servants in office, I respectfully appeal for fair and due consideration at the polls on next Tuesday, November 2.

Your support is respectfully solicited.

Yours most gratefully,

JAMES C. WALLACE.
Constable First Township,
San Mateo County.

LEGION OPPOSES MODIFICATION OF IMMIGRATION LAWS

"California American Legion Posts will resist any attempt to modify the present immigration laws, excluding Orientals from the United States," State Adjutant James K. Fisk announced upon his arrival at San Francisco from attendance at the recent national convention of the World war veterans' organization held at Philadelphia.

"The national convention reaffirmed its attitude favoring the exclusion of Orientals ineligible to citizenship, and the California department will stand guard to see that the present movement to change the laws is not permitted to gain a foothold," Adjutant Fisk declares in a message to the Posts of the organization in this state.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS

In a recent address, Alfred Reeves of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce declared that three hundred million dollars worth of automobiles were stolen last year, of which sixty million dollars worth remained unrecovered. One car out of every thirty registered in Detroit last year was stolen.

Mr. Reeves also says that automobile insurance rates are too high, because there is too little effort made by insurance companies to investigate the personal integrity of the applicant for a policy. Car owners who have a record for recklessness or criminality should be refused insurance, he says, because their delinquencies increase the rates which the honest and careful drivers have to pay.

He also warned that the motorist who leaves his car unlocked is tempting the thief, and in particular aids the kind of thievery which is for the purpose of a temporary joy ride.

Greater co-operation with a view to the apprehension and punishment of automobile thieves is urged. As Mr. Reeves says: "It is a mockery of justice that millions of dollars in motor thefts every year go unpunished."

TIE MAY CAUSE SPECIAL ELECTON

A special election to determine the issue between George Roussel and Thomas Pennington, who received a tie vote for the office of trustee at the recent incorporation election at Belmont, may have to be called, unless a recount should result in changing the present tie, it was stated to the San Mateo county supervisors last Monday by Attorney Roger Sherman, representing Belmont voters during a canvass of the election returns. No change in the election result resulted from the official canvass by the supervisors. Pennington and Roussel each received 89 votes, and must submit to the tie to a recount in the Superior Court, Attorney Sherman said.

Adequate heating facilities for the county court house were ordered by the supervisors, the order being handed to County Purchasing Agent Werder. Werder submitted a check for $1,216.50 representing an adjustment by insurance companies for damage to the San Mateo juvenile home at Redwood City, partially destroyed by fire about a month ago.

An application for widening of the main peninsula state highway at Harrison avenue, Beresford, entrance to the San Mateo county Community hospital was presented by Mrs. Rosalie Brown, supervisor of San Mateo. The board requested County Clerk Elizabeth Kneese to refer the application to the State Highway Commission. The widening is needed as a safety measure for vehicles at the intersection.

FLYING WITH CRUTCHES

So many remarkable feats have been performed by aviators that only something extraordinary in that line attracts more than passing notice. A recent exploit by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle of the U. S. Army is perhaps unique in flying annals.

After several years of creditable service, including the breaking of all seaplane records for speed in October, 1925, Lieutenant Doolittle decided to be the first American aviator to fly over the Andes. He accordingly sailed for Santiago, Chile, for that purpose.

A few days later he had a fall, not from the skies, but from a plane-assembling platform, a distance of 12 feet, breaking both legs. After waiting impatiently in a hospital for a month, he took to his plane, his legs still in plaster casts, the bones not yet knitted. With clips fastened to the casts to operate the rudder bar, and crutches strapped to the fuselage, he flew 1,100 miles to La Paz, Bolivia, and back. Then he flew 730 miles over 18,000-foot crests of the Andes to Buenos Aires, landing there with only enough gasoline for three more minutes in the air.

His legs were giving him serious trouble, not having knitted properly, so he went to a hospital again, had them broken over and reset. A few days ago he reached New York, still on crutches.

As an exhibition of courage, skill and sheer grit, Lieutenant Doolittle's feat probably has never been surpassed, certainly not in peace times. Yet he received but little press mention compared with that accorded the Channel smimmers and the heroes of the world's series.

Government experts are working out means of determining "the chemical composition and nutritive value of sausages." Thus science may solve another age-old mystery.

KNOWING AND DOING

It is mighty fine to know a lot, but it is even better to be able to do things. Many persons who have at their command a considerable assortment of information are unable to put it to very much practical use.

This was neatly illustrated in a sort of "confession" article by a teacher, in a recent issue of the Journal of the National Educational Association. She said:

"I can solve a quadratic equation, but I cannot keep my bank account straight.

"I can name the kings of England since the War of the Roses, but I do not know the qualifications of the candidates in the coming election.

"I know the economic theories of Malthus and Adam Smith, but I can not live within my income.

"I can explain the principles of hydraulics, but I cannot fix a leak in the kitchen faucet.

"I have studied the psychology of James and Titchener, but I cannot control my own temper.

"I can conjugate Latin verbs, but I cannot write legibly."

While this picture may be somewhat overdrawn, it serves to illustrate the futility of much that passes for education, when its acquisition is not accompanied by training which leads to its useful employment in everyday life.

WATCHING ICEBERGS

It sometimes takes a great disaster to awaken a community or a nation to the fact that a known menace to life and property often may be removed through intelligent action.

Such was the lesson of the Titanic, sunk through collission with an iceberg on April 14, 1912, with a loss of 1,517 lives.

This shocking tragedy of the sea aroused a demand for precautionery measures, resulting in the formation of the international ice patrol to watch for and report the locations of icebergs in the North Alantic steamer lanes during the dangerous season of the year, which is in the late spring and early summer.

The nations joined in bearing the expense, the patrol duty being performed by United States Coast Guard cutters. This patrol has been maintained each year since the Titanic disaster, with the exception of two years during the war.

Two cutters are employed each year, using Halifax as a base, and they send out information of icebergs sighted, this information being transmitted by radio to all vessels in the danger zone. Captains of vessels of all nations co-operate by reporting to the ice patrol any icebergs sighted by them, this data also being broadcast by radio twice daily.

In the 14 years since the ice patrol was established not a single life has been lost nor a single ship damaged through collision with icebergs. Truly a fine record.

THE CAMPAIGN OF INFORMATION

The things we do not understand are the ones which fool us.

It is easier to trust to luck than to acquire information.

A large part of human energy is expended in caring for the mistakes of others.

Poorhouses are filled because of waste, extravagance and ignorant spending.

Hospitals are filled because people disregard commonest rules of health and safety.

Courts are filled with those whose troubles are largely of their own making.

Asylums are filled because people knowingly break laws of health and nature.

Penitentiaries are filled with men who commit premeditated crimes.

To help eliminate much grief and suffering, industry is today carrying on educational campaigns to show people the folly of being uninformed, careless and indifferent to rules of health, business and safety.

Insurance companies are striving to show the irreparable waste of life and property which results from preventable fires and accidents.

Public utility leaders have been leaders in safety-first campaigns in the home, on the street, and in the investment field where savings are spent.

Railroads are constantly working to eliminate grade crossing accidents.

In order to improve service and prevent delays in communication, telephone companies invite telephone users to call at the nearest central stations, and inspect the complicated system of wires and signals which are maintained to complete their telephone calls. An understanding of what telephone operators are doing would eliminate much of the impatience which telephone users too often exhibit.

And so it goes through a long list of industries. Private enterprise is endeavoring to prevent misinformation, and furnish reliable information to the public which has too often been uninformed about the commonest essentials of home and business life.

STANDARDIZED FURNITURE

Important innovations in the manufacture of furniture are planned by the management of a recently completed merger of furniture companies, with a view to adopting mass production in that industry.

Discussing the new plan, B. J. Flynn, vice-president of the consolidated concern, stated that there is no reason why furniture manufacturers should follow outworn traditions. He declares that the reason for high prices of furniture today is the large variety of designs, with small production of each. By lessening the number and the production of standard designs on a large scale, he believes a saving of 50 per cent to the retail purchaser can be effected.

Another new policy of the big concern will be the establishment of factories at stategic marketing points throughout the country, which will also be near suitable timber supplies.

This is but another step in the advance of modern industry, whereby production of standardized goods on a large scale cuts costs, yet permits the payment of high wages, while reducing prices to the ultimate consumer.

CIVIC LEAGUE FAVORS NO. 6

The Civic League of Improvement Clubs and Associations of San Francisco, in its recommendations to the voters on the state and charter amendments, recommends that they vote for No. 6, the racing measure.

In the pamphlet issued by this association the following statement is made:

This act is unquestionably of great economic importance to the entire state, particularly agricultural districts, by increasing demand for farm products, as well as substantial endowment it will bring to county fairs. With funds available the Board of Agriculture will be enabled to encourage horticultural and animal husbandry by providing large cash prizes. This is of particular importance in increasing percentage of pure breeds of all species.

It also carries real and substantial benefits to all lines of commercial interest, including property values. It assures most desirable class winter tourists, who have been going to Florida, thus stimulating the current of commercial and social life throughout the state.

The moral aspects are thoroughly and effectively protected. Old abuses of long meetings and evils of bookmaking prohibited. Profit of racing associations limited to 9 per cent on capital invested—all surplus profit to be paid one-half to the Board of Agriculture and one-half to the Veterans' Welfare Board.

Race meetings cannot be licensed for more than twenty-five days, or a shorter period, at the discretion of the state racing board, appointed by the governor, in which absolute control is vested.

The measure also has the personal indorsement of a great number of leading citizens throughout the state, representative of its varied interests. Vote "Yes" on Number Six.

DIAGNOSTIC CHEST CLINIC

Miss Linad Mitschke and Miss Josie Taylor of the Bureau of Tuberculosis of California State Board of Health, are in the county making a survey of the tuberculosis situation with the object of holding some diagnostic chest clinics during the week of November 1st. These clinics are for the purpose of discovering early cases of tuberculosis hitherto undiagnosed, in order that they may be placed under proper supsrvision and treatment.

The clinic will be held in Daly City on Wednesday, November 3, at the Lodges' Hall. This clinic is free to everyone, and all residents are invited to attend.

Tuberculosis is both preventable and curable if discovered in its early stages, and many of the deaths occur during the early wage earning years of life, which seems a great economic loss to a community.

Many persons who live in this wonderfully rich county of San Mateo are quite unaware of the havoc which tuberculosis inflicts upon its population. The average man is prone to believe that its sunny climate makes him immune against infection. In 1925 and 26 to date, there were sixty-seven deaths from tuberculosis in San Mateo county. More than one-third of this number were under the age of 40.

It is true, as stated by the best authorities, that for every death from tuberculosis there are ten persons who are sick with it, it means that there are at the present time from 600 to 700 individuals in this county in the prime of youth and what should be the best years of life, handicapped in their struggle for existence by a condition largely preventable, and in the majority of cases where not too far advanced, perfectly curable.

An unlimited campaign to teach the value of early discovery is of great importance value to this community.

VETERANS' LOAN ACT

Under the slogan "It doesn't cost the taxpayer a red cent," thousands of members of the American Legion throughout California are putting forth strenuous efforts to secure the passage of the general election, November 2, of Proposition No. 1 on the ballot, the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act.

The unqualified endorsement of the act which not only loans the credit of the state but an additional cent of taxation, as State Commander John R. Quinn puts it, has been received at the legion headquarters at San Francisco from leading bankers, several labor organizations, politicians, women's clubs, cordial letters from many prominent citizens.

Proposition No. 1, on the November ballot, takes up the splendid work started by the people of California when they voted, in 1922, funds to assist California veterans to purchase their own homes and farms within the state.

Fifteen thousand deserving war veterans have made application and could not be accommodated by the original issue, the administration of which has been absolutely self-sustaining, costing the state nothing, since the veterans benefitted are paying back every cent plus interest to the state in regular monthly payments.

Proposition No. 1 provides an additional $20,000,000 to take care of the veterans who want to buy homes and farms. The veterans do not ask for charity; they simply ask us to extend the credit of the state, without cost to ourselves, to assist them in purchasing farms and homes they could not otherwise own.

Vote "Yes" on Number 1.

THE AUTO STAGE TAX

State Controller Ray L. Riley, who is recognized as one of the foremost experts on matters of taxation in the entire west, has issued a public statement urging the voters to give their approval of Proposition No. 2 on the ballot at the election November 2.

In giving his reasons for advocating the passage of the amendment, Riley said:

"Both from the standpoint of the state and enterprise involved, Amendment No. 2 is deserving of the support of the voters.

"This proposition fixes an equitable tax for motor stages and trucks. It is a good solution of a problem too long deferred.

"There are many phases of the amendment which should appeal to the state and the average citizen.

"First, this measure puts the taxation of these important utilities on a business basis and does away with the present unequal and highly unsatisfactory tax method.

"Also of great importance, it carries a stipulation that the revenues so derived shall be divided equally between the state and the counties for highway maintenance and repair. Although there are two highway financing measures on the ballot pertaining to new construction, this is the ONLY act to go before the voters which provides money for the important work of maintaining and repairing the roads.

"Looking at the matter from another angle, motor transportation is here to stay and the companies engaging in it are entitled to just consideration. I feel that they are especially entitled to have their tax problems stabilized so that they can have a definite means of figuring their operation costs. Under conditions now obtaining, it is absolutely impossible for these concerns to anticipate their tax requirements.

"In brief, I feel that Amendment No. 2 merits the support of everyone interested in equitable adjustment of the tax problem."

SECTIONAL HIGHWAY SCHEME

Warning to voters not to be deceived on election day by the misleading title—"State Highways"—on Proposition No. 8, the inadequate sectional measure placed on the ballot by certain Los Angeles interests, has been issued by those in favor of the No. 4 measure.

The one-cent gasoline tax proposed in Measure No. 4 is the "good roads legislation" on the ballot that will insure completion of the state highway system on an equitable and state wide basis, and its adoption must be accomplished by the defeat of No. 8, if further financing of highway building is to be on an adequate, fair and sound basis.

No. 8 masquerades under a label that makes it appear exactly what it is not, and considerable confusion is likely to result unless the voters keep in mind that the only way to serve the cause of good roads is by marking the ballot in two places—for Four and against Eight.

Advocates of No. 4 declare that No 8 would better have been designated on the ballot "Sectional Highways," for no more viciously sectional proposal has ever been placed before the voters of California in the state's history.

No. 8 splits the state in two parts for highway and voting purposes, thirteen southern counties and forty-five northern counties, thus destroying state unity.

No. 8 diverts the lion's share of highway funds to the south. It makes 79 per cent of highways in the thirteen counties primary and but 56 per cent in the north, and then divides new construction money on this disproportionate basis.

Vote for No. 4 and against No. 8.

COLMA COMMUNITY CENTER CABARET AND DANCE

The annual entertainment given by the Colma Community Center at Colombo Auditorium, Saturday evening, October 23, was one of the most successful affairs ever held in Colma.

The success of any community effort depends entirely upon the hearty co-operation of various groups in that community. For this reason the board of directors, consisting of Mrs. M. P. Henderson, president; Mrs. Emma Woolsey, treasurer; Mrs. Camille Benassini, secretary; Mrs. Volkman, Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. Matthew Grady and Mr. George Lagomarsino, feel particularly grateful and appreciative of the hearty support given by our townspeople and contributing friends from other towns.

The money raised at these yearly entertainments is for the purpose of maintaining the library, keeping the building in repair and providing funds for the community Christmas celebration.

Mr. Matthew Grady, Mr. George Lagomarsino and the Ladies' Anxiliary, composed of the women directors of the board and Mrs. Matt Grady, Mrs. Anne Biggio, Mrs. Mowry, Mrs. Flick, Mrs. Horkey and Mrs. Wright, have given unstintedly of their time and efforts to make the affair a success.

The Jefferson school department contributed greatly to the pleasure of the evening. The assistance of the Jefferson high school orchestra, under Mr. Kleemeyer; the Jefferson grammar school, through Miss Teel and Miss Tobias, and the R. S. Thornton school, through Mrs. Elllis C. Johnson, was sincerely appreciated by the directors.

The fire department contributed a big act of service by building an addition to the stage and transporting chairs, tables, etc., to and from the Center, and assisting at the wheel of fortune.

Thanks are also due the orchestra for their excellent music, unfailing good nature and generosity.

The refreshment department, in charge of Mrs. Frederica Volkman, assisted by Mrs. Mowry and Mrs. Anne Biggio, did a rushing business. The coffee particularly was commended by all. Delicious home made cakes donated by Colma's best cooks, and soft drinks were served all evening.

THAT SPECIAL SESSION

At the special one-day session of the legislature, called by Governor Richardson for October 22, after only three hours' deliberation the Assembly by the overwhelming vote of 68 to 8, rejected unconditional ratification of the six state Colorado river compact and concurred in the action of the Senate approving the great water development project with reservations.

The action of the assembly closely followed similar action in the Senate, where the reservationists won by a vote of 34 to 3.

The legislature's action constituted a decisive defeat of Governor Richardson's program.

Lieutenant Governor Young was accorded an ovation by the lawmakers who were present at the session.

VALUE of health may not be reckoned in dollars and cents. Two thousand years ago there was perhaps some excuse for the gastronome, but today there is none. The way to health lies in a balanced diet. Hippocrates, the father of medicine, figured along the same lines back 450 B. C. He expressed the belief that the science of medicine had its beginning in the efforts of men and women to find better and smoother diets.

Diet in the home today is becoming a matter of premier consideration. Women are taking cognizance of those important food elements known as vitamines. They have learned, also, the benefit to the human body of such minerals as iron, calcium and phosphorus.

This knowledge has resulted in the housewife planning her menus with an eye open to dietary values, which is the big reason why milk has assumed such a large place in the menu of the American family. Milk contains every structural element for body building. It is an almost perfect food. Despite the best refrigeration facilities, milk will keep sweet only a short time. Millions of American housewives have solved this big problem by using evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk sterilized in cans to achieve keeping qualities and with sixty per cent of the water removed.

Evaporated milk is not the same as condensed milk, although many persons confuse the two. The condensed product is a combination of milk and sugar cane in a two-fifth cane sugar and three-fifth milk proportion. Evaporated milk has nothing but water taken from it and nothing at all added. Sugar is the preservative used in manufacturing the condensed product, while heat only is the preservative for evaporated milk. For this reason the evaporated product may be used in any way in which market milk is used.

Fudge Making Finds Favor With Co-Eds

Fudge may be classed with pie as a typical American dish. It has a place in every young man's heart and every girl's category of accomplishments. Co-eds swear by fudge and "fudge shines" in sorority parlors are the very latest wrinkle in collegiate circles.

Meta H. Given.

There's a big wallop in a platter of fudge, the co-eds explain, because it's one of the greatest sources of energy, containing both milk, the "perfect food," and sugar.

If you've any doubt of the place fudge occupies in the young male heart, try these recipes on him and hear his own answer. Each of the appended dishes was prepared by Miss Meta Given, doing research work in the home economics department of the University of Chicago, and they are the result of much experimentation.

Chocolate Fudge.

2 cups sugar
¾ cup evaporated milk
½ cup water
1 tbsp. corn sirup
2 squares chocolate
Few grains of salt
1 tbsp. butter
½ tsp. vanilla

Shave the chocolate so that it will melt more easily. Add the sugar, salt, milk, water and corn sirup. Cook, stirring until chocolate and sugar are melted, and then only occasionally to prevent burning, until the soft ball stage is reached, or a temperature of 234 degrees Fahrenheit. Remove from fire and add the butter. Cool until almost lukewarm, 110 degrees, add flavoring and beat vigorously until when a little is dropped from the spoon it will hold its shape. Pour into oiled tins and mark in squares.

Cocoanut Candy.

1½ cup sugar
¼ cup evaporated milk
¼ cup water
1 tsp. butter
1-3 cup shredded cocoanut
½ tsp. vanilla

Put butter into granite saucepan; when melted, add sugar, milk and water, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Heat to boiling, and cook to the soft ball stage. Remove from fire, add cocoanut and vanilla, cool to 110 degrees Fahrenheit and beat until creamy and mixture begins to sugar slightly around edge of pan. Pour into buttered pan and when cool mark in squares.

Penoche.

2 cups brown or maple sugar
⅝ cup evaporated milk
⅝ cup water
1 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups chopped nuts

Boil sugar, milk and water to the soft ball stage. Remove from the fire; add butter, flavoring and nuts. Cool to 110 degrees Fahrenheit, then beat until creamy and thickened; pour into a greased tin and when firm cut.

OLD TIME RACING IN CALIFORNIA

THE THAD STEVENS RACE

By Edward A. Morphy, Editor San Francisco Argonaut

The most notable event in the history of the California turf was the Thad Stevens race, so-called, of November 15, 1873.

In this event, which was run at the old San Francisco Oceanside track in four heats of four miles each for a purse of $20,000, the California horse, Thad Stevens, defeated True Blue of Kentucky, and Joe Daniels of Michigan, the two best horses of the year on the Eastern turf.

For more than a week preceding the race, the newspapers from the Atlantic to the Pacific were bubbling with details of the contest. True Blue was sent across the continent from Baltimore in a special car attended by a retinue of servitors, and his journey excited as much public interest as that of a president on the eve of an election.

True Blue was owned by John J. Chamberlain. He was by Lexington out of Balloon, and was therefore half brother to the great Norfolk whose Roman nose was subsequently transmitted to many famous California racers. He had won some of the greatest races on the Eastern turf in 1872 and 1873. So had Joe Daniels, owned by William Wightman of Michigan, who had beaten True Blue in three important races.

Thad Stevens was owned by George Treat of San Francisco. He was a sorrel horse, by Langford out of Mary Chilton. The latter was by imported Glencoe out of an American Eclipse mare on the dam's side. William Hall's bay mare, Mamie Hall, was also entered in the race, but she was withdrawn during the first heat, and never figured materially in the running.

California breeders at that time knew they could raise good horses, but the Coast was too far from the popular racing centers to attract crack racers.

To offset this disadvantage, the newly formed Pacific Jockey Club offered the $20,000 purse. The ensuing publicity and the success of Thad Stevens formed the nucleus from which developed the subsequent achievements of California on the American turf.

When True Blue arrived in San Francisco he was the hot favorite. The city was crowded with visitors from the eastern and southern sporting centers, and their backing was chiefly on the Kentuckian. On the eve of the race, however, Thad Stevens became the favorite.

The first Pari-Mutuel machine ever seen in the West was brought out from New York a week before the race, and installed at the Lick House. Praises of its probity were chanted by public and press alike.

The morning of the race dawned bright and beautiful. By 8 o'clock an exodus had started like that from London on Derby Day. Thousands of persons on foot and horseback, and in rigs of every description, were wending their way to the Oceanside track. By noon the track was fairly crowded, while the adjacent hills were packed with those who did not want to pay for admission.

Cornelius Stagg had refused $15,000 for the gate rights to the track a few days before. Admittance cost $2; the grand stand $1 extra; the quarter-stretch "with all privileges", $10. Twenty thousand people had paid for entrance before the race started, more than 12 per cent of the population of San Francisco. Everybody of importance in California from the Governor downwards was on the spot.

Joe Daniels won the first heat from True Blue by three lengths, with Thad Stevens third. Mamie Hall was withdrawn.

True Blue won the second heat by five length from Joe Daniels, with Thad Stevens again third.

Backers of Thad Stevens were not discouraged after these two defeats, because it was known that he did not tire. Nevertheless excitement was at fever heat when the third heat started. The public was keyed up for the expected struggle between Thad and True Blue.

Thad and the Kentuckian forged ahead of Joe Daniels in the first mile, and raced stoutly together until the first half of the last mile was covered. Then, True Blue suddenly quit, and Thad romped home the rest of the way, winning by six lengths from Joe Daniels. The time made, 7 minutes 57 seconds, was eleven seconds better than that of the second heat, 8 minutes 8 seconds.

Darkness was falling when the fourth heat started, but the public was wild with excitement. It looked like a great race for three-fourths of the way; but the Californians never winced while they watched Thad Stevens see-sawing with the Michigan champion. On the sixteenth mile of a day, they knew there was nothing that could outrun Thad Stevens. And so, as the horses came around the last turn the cheering began.

Charley Ross, Thad's jockey, gave the sorrel his head as they swung into the stretch. Joe Daniels struggled gamely for a few strides. But the new pace of the Californian was such that no other horse, at that stage of the race, could hope to stay.

From the carriages in the field, from the rails, the grand stand and the darkening hills around, arose a roar that split the welkin.

On galloped Thad Stevens.

The uproar redoubled. Men were screaming staccato, hats were whirling in the air. Thirty thousand throats were cheering in a whirlwind of triumphant ecstacy. Ross looked behind over his shoulder, then sat up in his saddle and romped home ten length ahead of Joe Daniels.

California had defeated the pride of the American turf, and from that day, and for many years thereafter, San Francisco remained a Mecca for American race-goers.

THE GRINDSTONE

If your nose is close to the grindstone rough,
And you keep it down there long enough,
You will soon forget there are such things
As a brook which babbles and a bird which sings.
Three things your whole world will compose—
Yourself, the stone, and your darned old nose.

TALES OF PAUL SMITH'S

The noted hunters' and fishermen's resort known as Paul Smith's in the Adirondacks of New York, was much in the public eye this summer owing to its having been chosen by President Coolidge as his official vacation headquarters.

Dispatches from the summer White House were garbled amusingly by certain foreign newspapers, one of which quoted the president as having expressed certain views to Mr. Paul Smith, while another identified Paul Smith as "the spokesman for the president."

The founder of this resort is described by the New York Times as one Apollos A. Smith, whose first name was abbreviated to "Pol," and later corrupted into "Paul." In the early 50s this worthy built a shack on Loon Lake and called it "Hunters' Home." On a stump outside was kept a keg of whisky, at which the Nimrods and Waltons might regale themselves at four cents a drink.

The place became popular, and he later built a more pretentious, though rough, hotel of seventeen rooms, which was patronized by many notables, including E. H. Harriman, who once in a playful moment shot a gilded ball off the flagpole.

But it was not until the arrival of President Coolidge this year that Paul Smith's reached its pinnacle of fame. It is too bad that old Paul himself could not have lived to be his host.

STATEMENT CONCERNING THE RACING MEASURE

By H. J. MACOMBER
Chairman Racing Board Campaign Committee

After several years of study and practical investigation on the part of a number of men interested in horse breeding and agriculture, it has been decided to submit an initiative measure to the voters at the November election of which the purpose is to restore horse racing as a pastime and bring added wealth to the state without reviving the old system of book-making and pool-selling that were aforetime carried on under conditions prejudicial to public welfare.

The measure permits only a limited number of race meets each year under strict supervision of a State Racing Board, and allows the Pari Mutuel, or Totalizator wagering system, to be conducted within the enclosures of race tracks only.

To avoid a multiplicity of race tracks and undue frequency of race meets in any particular locality, the profits of licensed racing associations are limited to 9 per cent a year on the actual investment in race tracks and equipment, and no new tracks can be located or established without first securing permission of the board.

Net earnings of racing associations from all sources beyond the 9 per cent annually on capital invested will be divided, half going to the Veterans' Welfare Board, and half to the California State Board of Agriculture.

The half contributed to the Veterans' Welfare Board will be used for the purposes set forth in the existing Veterans' Welfare Act, and for any similar beneficent purposes that future legislatures may prescribe for the relief of war veterans and their dependents.

The half devoted to the Board of Agriculture will be used for the purpose of encouraging and improving the conditions of agriculture and stock breeding, and in aiding state, district and county expositions, thereby reviving the popularity of county fairs for which sufficient state aid is not now available.

The California Racing Board will consist of three members appointed by the governor, two of whom are to be selected from the State Board of Agriculture, and the third, a chairman, selected at large. No member of this board may be financially interested in horse racing. Each will be required to furnish a $50,000 bond that he will faithfully perform his duties. The board to appoint inspectors, accountants, experts and such staff as may be necessary to enforce the act at a cost of not more than $30,000 a year from the revenue the proposed law provides.

Not more than two race meets of not exceeding twenty-five days each and at least ninety days apart, can be held in a calendar year at any track, and only on licenses issued by the board to authorized racing associations. The board can refuse permits in cases where it believes the applicant lacks sufficient financial responsibility or is not likely to conduct racing in strict accordance with the law. License fees for such meets are fixed at $500 a day, but non-profit fairs or agricultural expositions may hold one six-day meet a year for $50 daily license fee.

Ample safeguards are provided throughout the act to assure only the highest class of good, clean racing. The board, for instance, will have full power to prescribe rules and regulations for races, and is vested with absolute authority over all race tracks and their employes. It may also revoke or suspend any license and such action by the board is subject to review by the Superior Courts on questions of law only.

Failure to make proper returns of earnings in excess of the 9 per cent net annual revenues subjects track owners to a fine of as much as $25,000. Unlicensed race meetings are penalized by fines of not less than $500 nor more than $10,000 for each day of an unauthorized meet.

WONDERS OF COAL TAR

Although most persons are aware of the importance of coal tar derivaties in a general way, perhaps few realize how many useful products are derived from the volatile matter released from burning coal, which formerly passed off in black smoke without a thought being given to its possible value.

About 1892 the first by-product coke ovens were introduced in the United States, through the operation of which this volatile matter was saved for re-distillation, resulting in the production of ten fundemental materials, known as benzene, toluene, xylene, phenol, cresol, naphthalene, anthracine, methylanthracene, phenanthrene, and carbazol.

From these are produced countless derivatives, from which we obtain many drugs, dyes, perfumes, flavoring extracts, explosives, poisons, fertilizers, and an almost endless list of commercially important commodities. Among the well-known drugs so derived are salicylic acid, aspirin, phenacetin, antipyrin, and cocaine, besides more than 9000 dyes. The sugar substitute saccharine, more than 300 times as sweet as cane sugar, is produced from toluene, which is also used in the manufacture of the powerful explosive known as T. N. T.

To enumerate all the useful products manufactured from what was once considered waste matter would require much space, but the foregoing will give some idea of what has been accomplished in this direction [illegible] periments within a comparatively few years. That the future holds even greatest possibilities for the utilization of materials heretofore considered worthless can hardly be doubted.

It is fortunate we have had such warm, pleasant weather during the past few weeks, for the heating system at the Woodrow Wilson school broke down. As a consequence the trustees are now having a modern system installed, and very soon it will be ready for operation. Then the children need have no fear of any cold weather.

Ewall and Miss Margie O'Connor attended a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. John Finnegan, of San Francisco, in honor of one of their beautiful daughters, Miss Gertrude Finnegan, who entered the Ursalin Convent at Santa Rosa last Monday. Although having just celebrated her nineteenth birthday, it has always been her wish to enter the convent.

For the benefit of the people of Daly City who do not know of the ordinance, Marshal Doyle takes this opportunity to tell them that anyone who gets off a stret car between the safety zone and the switch is subject to prosecution. This is an ordinance, and was passed in order to prevent people from jumping off of a moving car, from which many accidents have resulted.

Mrs. M. Ratto, wife of the proprietor of the New San Francisco Auto Camp, and her mother, Mrs. Crawford, have returned from their southern trip. Mrs. Crawford was greatly improved by her sojourn of several weeks at a famous hot springs resort for the cure of rheumatism, from which she has suffered severly. The ladies are glad to be back with us, but they are not nearly so glad as Messrs. ECONOMY VERSUS DENTAL FEES

By Dr. W. J. Lantheaume (Dentist)

Economy of dental fees is earned only through proper mouth hygiene and preventive measures to check infection. Dental caries (cavities, holes in the teeth) and many other forms of infection are self-inflicted, due only to lack of care, and, "Well, I'm late this morning," or "I'm too tired." Remember, nature gets tired, too, and soon makes know her wants in some form of pain.

A message to lend a helping hand. How often it goes unheeded. Not for long though. Nature soon flares up in the form of an irritation and inflames herself to the point of infection, demands immediate recognition, and forces radical treatments or extractions.

Take heed, answer her call early. Have those insignificant pits filled by your family dentist. Treat yourself to a healthy mouth. Give your system the same consideration that you give your machine. A little knock, a little noise: "H'm! I've got to fix that bearing. Oh yes, and grind the valves." True, isn't it, taking up a bearing or grinding the valves IN TIME is automobile economy. Likewise preventive dentistry is the keynote of dental economy.

Conclusion: A stitch in time saves nine.

VETERAN TREASURER ENDORSES MRS. COOPER

To the Voters of San Mateo county:

When I decided to retire as Treasurer of San Mateo county, I recommended my deputy, Grace Lawrence Cooper, for the position.

At the primary election, Mrs. Cooper received the highest vote, but not sufficient to elect her then, so it became necessary for her to again run for the office at the general election.

Knowing that Mrs. Cooper is fully competent to carry on the duties of the office in an efficient and able manner, I feel justified in again giving her my unqualified endorsement, and strongly urge the voters of San Mateo county to elect her county treasurer on November 2nd.

Again expressing my gratitude to the voters who have so loyally supported me during my incumbency in office for the past forty-four (44) years, I am,

Yours very truly,
P. P. CHAMBERLAIN,
County Treasurer.

More schools for salesmen are being established. The trouble is they sell us too much stuff now.

No wonder the Sesqui is a financial failure. Pennsylvania folks spent all their money on the primary.
